Join LTD in Thanking Essential Workers

During the last month, the community has been working together to protect the health of residents in our area. People are staying home and only taking essential trips or have transitioned to teleworking to comply with Governor Brown's Stay Home Save Lives order. Many others, who are essential workers, have continued to go into work to help keep the community going. These essential workers expose themselves and their families daily in order to provide the community with food, fuel, health care, electricity, transportation, and much more.

LTD thanks all essential workers, including LTD employees that continue to come in each day to help the community get to the places they need to be.

COVID-19 Update

Thank you for your support and patience as we navigate these changing times together. LTD will continue to make responsible service decisions during these uncertain times keeping bus operators, passengers, and the community safe and healthy. In the meantime, please make only essential bus trips to work, doctor's appointments, grocery shopping, or to take care of family or friends. When you ride an LTD bus, remember to enter and exit the bus from the back door, keep your nose and mouth covered during the entirety of your ride, and sit six-feet away from other passengers. Elderly riders and those who need to use the lift may enter and exit through the front door. To limit exposure to COVID-19, LTD staff is continuing to clean buses arriving at the Eugene and Springfield stations Monday through Friday, as well as every evening.

Continue to check the Bus Talk newsletter or the LTD website for updates and/or to confirm bus route schedules before planning to ride the bus.
